W. A. Warren States His Plans For the Coming Campaign

Prohibition forces in Randall County will start a drive on August 11th to urge every one opposed to repeal to go to the polls on August 24th and cast a vote to keep Texas in the dry column. W. A. Warren was elected leader of the prohibition forces three weeks gao, and has been conferring with members of his committee regarding the campaign in Randall county.

The first general meeting will be held in Canyon on August 11th when Dr. Roy C. Snodgrass of Amarillo will talk at a union meeting of all churches in Canyon. At that time a complete program for the campaign will be announced, and citizens opposed to repeal will be urged to get into the fight.

On August 20th a county wide rally will be held on the court house lawn, featuring an address of Rev. H. D. Tucker of Pampa. Mr. Tucker was said to have made the most logical and impressive address delivered at the Panhandle rally recently held in Amarillo. There will be special music for this rally.

A large number of the members met at the park Thursday for a picnic supper and made arrangements for the annual meeting. Cecil Walker, president, of Hereford, and L. Gough, secretary, of Amarillo, joined Ed Baird, Tom Dowlen, I. C. Jenkins, of Canyon, John Arnot of Amarillo, and John Isaacs of Canadian, in making the plans for the coming event.

Those who are eligible for membership will be charged $1.00 each to attend the Round Up.

Miss Allie Dozier left Friday in her own car so that she might visit at her home near Dallas over the week end.

Mrs. Roy Campbell and Mrs. Charles Benton made the trip as the Wardrobe demonstrators sent from the Council, and Mrs. S. L. Robinson was the Council representative.

Others making the trip were Mrs. James Eddie Park, Mrs. Bailie McCormick, Mrs. H. F. Ratjen, Mrs. J. J. Wright, Mrs. Glenford Fowler, Mrs. G. W. Hardman, Miss Inez Wesley and Miss Othell Wesley as representatives of their respective clubs.

College Rodeo To Be Held Saturday

Performances to be Held Afternoon and Night

W. T.'s wild and woolly rodeo will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock and the second show will be at 8:30 o'clock under the flood lights of Buffalo field. The program is being sponsored by the Canyon Athletic Club and proceeds will go toward the completion of Buffalo Courts.

The public will have an opportunity to see the reviving of the old West at 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Wild steers, wild cows, bronc horses, wild cowboys, and wild cowgirls will take part in the program. As an added attraction, members of the physical education department will attempt to ride wild steers. Red Myrick of Amarillo, manager of the rodeo, has announced that 'Red," the educated horse, will also be on the program.

A kid's calf roping contest has been added to the list of events.

The Amarillo Maverick Club will be guests of the Canyon club Saturday afternoon when the wild and woolly West will be at its wildest and woolliest.

Tax Rate For State Lowered For Coming Year

County Rate Likely To Be Same, But Not Yet Set

The state tax rate was reduced 15 cents on the $100 valuation by the state automatic tax board at its meeting Saturday. The reduction was made possible by the accumulation in the school fund, and the reduction was made in this fund.

The rate set for the state was 62 cents, comprised as follows: state general fund, 35c; state school fund, 20c; confederate pension 7c.

The general fund has a deficit of more than seven million dollars, which will increase to nearly 13 millions by next year owing to the three million centennial appropriation, the two million rural aid, in addition to interest for the relief fund.

Randall county has not set the tax rate for the year. The commisioners court will not be able to do this before the next regular meeting of the court. The present rate is 84 cents on the $100 valuation, and will likely remain unchanged after the budget has been adopted for the coming year.

Insurance—Loans Discussed Tuesday by Robert Foster

Bob Foster was in charge of the program at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday noon, giving a classification talk on his business of insurance and loans.

Insurance rates are based upon the construction of the building, its occupancy and the fire fighting equipment of the town. The key rate of the town is determined by the equipment and the losses which have been sustained. Many other features enter into the make up of the individual rate of any particular building.

The work of the Federal Land Bank in refinancing the land loans was explained at length. At the present time there are loans of record in Randall county amounting to $14.46 per acre and chattel mortgages amount to $3.25 per acre. The interest amounts to practically $1.00 per acre for tillable land. The Federal Land Bank in refinancing the loans for the farmers is making it possible for them to pay off these debts.

Visitors present Tuesday were: W. A. Askew, J. Hall Brown, Leroy White, T. C. Crowe all of Amarillo; Hosea Foster of Canyon.

The business of the term will not be very heavy, judging the docket as it stands this week. However, several men are bound over to the grand jury, and may develop criminal cases for trial during the session.

Canyon All-Stars to Meet W. T. Boys Again Friday Nite

Delbert Lowes' All-Star town team will meet the W. T. athletes again Friday night at 7:30 o'clock on Buffalo field. This will be the third game for the two teams, with the victories chalked up for the town boys.

Following this game the W. T. team will play the Fox Drug of Amarillo.

A gathering of all members will be held on September 17, and a trip to the Palo Duro Park will likely be planned for this meeting.

Miss Allie Dozier and Mrs. Roy Campbell left Saturday for College Station where they are attending the Short Course.

Conference For School Leaders Be Held Aug. 8

State Superintendent L. A. Woods to Direct Parley

State Superintendent L. A. Woods will bring a group of his departmental association to W. T. next Thursday for a conference with those engaged in school work.

Invitations were mailed out this week from Austin to county school boards, district school boards, county superintendents, independent school superintendents and Parent-Teachers Associations.

"The conference will be one of a series in Texas in order that school people may better understand the functions of the State Department of Education," states Mr. Woods.

Dr. J. A. Hill has been requested to assist in conducting the conference. Accompanying Mr. Woods will be C. M. Elwell and S. O. Murdock, division heads in the State Education department.

Among the subjects for discussion will be: classification of schools; standardization of schools, new school laws, transportation, high school tuition, state music program, and many other subjects affecting school administration.

Dr. Hill will discuss the subject, "What the college can do to help school officials."

Capt. W. L. Bolton Division Commander New C C C Work

Captain L. D. Cooper, commander of CCC camps in this division, is turning over his duties to Captain Walter T. Bolton under the new CCC set-up. Captain Cooper has been division commander since last fall, and this week is visiting all companies with Captain Bolton making the transfers.

Starting today, CCC headquarters will be located at Lubbock instead of Oklahoma City. This new district was created owing to the new CCC companies which are being created in the soil erosion program.

Under the new plan all West Texas companies down as far as Buffalo Gap will be in the Lubbock Division. Those on the South Plains will be designated as subdistrict No. 1, and those on the North Plains as sub-division No. 2. There are four companies in No. 2 at the present time, two at Palo Duro, one at Hereford, one at Clovis. New camps for soil erosion are being established at Memphis, Perryton and Amarillo.

25 Years In Canyon

BY CLYDE W. WARWICK

The publisher of The News has been a citizen of Canyon for 25 years. I arrived in Canyon on July 29th, 1910, and assumed the management of The News on the 1st of August.

For several months the force contemplated publishing a special historical edition today in recognition of this momentuous event. Economic conditions have been against such an effort in publishing the type of edition we had in mind. So this 25th anniversary passes like any of the other days of these busy, eventful, happy 25 years as a citizen of a good community, among friendly people.

In spite of the dangers of seeming to have grown old, the temptation cannot be resisted to let the mind run back 25 years and think in the terms of the "good old days."

Many events have taken place since I landed in Canyon. A lot of people have come and many good friends have gone. Changes have taken place. If you were not here 25 years ago, you will hardly appreciate the changes which have been made.

I came to Canyon after graduating from the University of Iowa. Chas. K. Needham, publisher of The News, offered me a job after L. B. Christman had published The News for a year. My employment was confirmed by C. O. Keiser, owner of The News at that time. This employment began a business connection with Mr. Keiser which extended until his death. No young man ever had a kinder, wiser or more loyal business associate than I had in Mr. Keiser.

The News office was located in a sheet iron building on the south side of the square, about the spot now occupied by the Farlow Electric. The building was upon blocks, so that the north wind whipped beneath during winter, freezing water at any place in the building; and the sun bore down hot as blazes during the summer. The rent on the building was $40 per month!

Dan K. Usery was a member of the force, and has been a member of the News force for 27 years, with the exception of four years taken out 1914-18.

The printing machinery was propelled by a gasoline engine. Type was set by hand. Not a country printing shop in the Panhandle could boast of a linotype.

After a year in this building, a new brick home was erected, now occupied by the Canyon Steam Laundry. A desire for a better location

Wheat Crop is Larger Than the Harvest of 1934

Practically All Sold By Farmers in This Section

Approximately 30 cars of wheat will be shipped from Canyon this season, according to estimates of local dealers. Practically all of the wheat in this section has been delivered that will be offered for sale. Many farmers who raised wheat this year are holding a considerable amount for fall seeding.

Wheat continues at 97 cents on the local market, the price having been stronger throughout the season than last.

While wheat has been a disap-

Relief Board to Be Released For Future Set Up

Complete Change Is Being Made Under WPA

A complete change in relief administration is expected in Texas before many weeks, according to information received yesterday.

The county relief boards are scheduled to be relieved of responsibility under the new plan. Although these boards were divested of practically all authority several months ago, members were asked to serve under the terms of the state law.

According to the present plan, 38 dstricts will be organized in Texas which will largely direct all of the relief work.

Able bodied workers who will be transferred from the relief rolls to the new WPA projects must stand medical examination. These examinations will start at once. The local office is transferring the records of the men as rapidly as possible.

The local office has no funds for work this week, but expects a check during the coming week.

No WPA projects have been approved, although the work on Buffalo Courts and widening No. 9 will continue under the relief set-up until the new plan has been adopted.

Company F to Leave Friday Morning For Annual Encampment

BEAUCHAMP IS PLEASED WITH THE PALO DURO

Member Parks Board on Official Inspection Tuesday

IS CALLED HIS PET

Plans For Future Work Discussed Here on Visit

Tom L. Beauchamp of Paris, member of the Texas State Parks Board, made an official visit to the Palo Duro State Park Tuesday, and conferred with members of the Advisory committee regarding the work under way at the Park.

"The Palo Duro is my pet project," stated Mr. Beauchamp. "When Governor Moody asked me to accept a place on the Texas State Parks Board, I replied that I would be glad to accept, if I could be of service, and get a system of state parks. I consider the Palo Duro and Caddo Lake the two outstanding projects in Texas, since there is nothing like the two to be found in the Southwest."

E. W. Rice accompanied Mr. Beauchamp on the trip. The two men are making a study of attractiveness of the various state parks of Texas with a view of formulating plans for their maintenance after the National Park Service completes its program of development. Mr. Rice is an experienced entertainment promoter, and is looking to a system which may cover the entire state in providing attractive features which will make real drawing cards for the various parks.

Louis J. Bryan, superintendent of the Palo Duro, spent last week in Austin where all features of the Palo Duro were thoroughly discussed with D. E. Colp, chairman of the Texas State Parks Board.

Mrs. Warwick In Title Game For Amarillo Club

Mrs. Clyde Warwick played in the championship game of the Amarillo Country Club Sunday, being eliminated by Mrs. Jesse Rogers, 6-4. Mrs. Rogers was favorite to win the championship from the start of the tournament, having played a fine game thruout the season.

Mrs. Warwick was playing in the championship flight for her second year. She was the only player in the tournament who did not live in Amarillo.

More Folks Enjoy Palo Duro During Past Seven Days

Attendance increased at the Palo Duro State Park the past week, the total being exceeded by only two weeks during the year. 510 cars entered the Park, with 271 on last Sunday.

The crowd came from 84 Texas towns this week, and from 73 towns outside of Texas.

The total number of cars for the year was raised to 7,474 by the attendance of the week.

Amarillo maintained the lead of visitors with 144 cars; Canyon 32; Pampa 20; Dallas 14; Lubbock, Plainview 12 each; Fort Worth 11; Hereford, Tulia 10 each; Muleshoe 7, Wichita Falls 6; Borger, Claude, Dimmitt 5 each; Panhandle, Whittenburg, Wellington, 4 each; Houston, White Deer, Happy, San Antonio, Big Spring, Memphis, Clarendon, Childress, Kilgore, 3 each; with the balance coming from all sections of the state.

lead to the erection of a building 35x100 feet at the present location on the north side of the square in 1924. This building was enlarged to 35x140 feet in 1928, making necessary a change in all of the printing machinery. Thus I have moved this printing plant three times during the period of 25 years—but never again.

During the 25 years, hardly one piece of furniture or one bit of printing material has not been replaced by newer and more modern equipment. Three new presses, two linotypes, two new folding machines, and all modern equipment and materials have been installed in order to give better service to the public.

The people of Canyon and Randall county have been kind to The News during these years. We have enjoyed a good business, but have re-invested the earnings of the business back in a more serviceable plant for the benefit of the citizens who uses The News and its facilities.

During these years the management has taken a very active part in all phases of community work. Service has been rendered on practically every sort of public board and enterprise within the confines of the county. It would be impractical to list all of these services, but be it said without boasting that the work has been very, very pleasant. A country newspaper man sometimes thinks that he grows weary of public service rendered his community, and wonders whether it is worth while. The joy of service and seeing sor. thing worth while accomplished is recompense sufficiently.

Twenty-five years ago, the College building was not completed, and the first school session opened in September in the court house. President R. B. Cousins had been in Canyon since January.

J. A. Hill, head of the history department, had just arrived in Canyon.

Travis Shaw was in the First National Bank.

R. A. Terrill was running an abstract company.

No other members of the faculty were in Canyon.

The public school had one brick building, an addition being under construction for the opening of the fall term. This building was wrecked a few years ago to be replaced by the new ward building. I feel proud of the fact to have been a member of the school board for eight years, during which time the high school and ward school buildings were erected.

The News was called The Randall County News. The following were advertisers 25 years ago:

C. N. Harrison & Co., abstractors.
Edward Hyatt, well drilling.
The Leader.
First State Bank.
City Meat Market.
White Swan Grocery.

There was not a single brick church in Canyon 25 years ago. All churches were located west of the square. During the 25 years five brick church buildings and two stucco buildings have been erected. No small town in Texas has better church facilities.

Pastors of the churches at that time were:

Rev. M. E. Hawkins, Methodist.
Rev. J. S. Groves, Presbyterian.
Rev. J. M. Harder, Baptist.
Rev. J. J. Hutchinson, Christian.

The only brick buildings on the square were on the east and west sides, neither side being solidly built up.

Buildings erected during the past 25 years on the east side are: Canyon Grocery and M System; on the west side, City Pharmacy and Peoples Store.

Only three small frame buildings were on the north side, which is now built up solidly with attractive business houses.

Fire wiped out the row of sheet iron buildings on the south side, which have been replaced with brick and stucco buildings.

There was not a single well kept road in Randall County 25 years ago. The road running north from the depot was the only route to Amarillo. It was fenced as far as the Andy Costley place, and from there on you took the numerous trails across country almost to the edge of Amarillo where a road was picked up. No one dreamed of paving highways.

There were not a half dozen automobiles in Randall county, owing to high price of cars, the lack of roads, the uncertainty of the future of the car.

There was not a foot of paved street in Canyon, and the hitching rack lined the public square.

The livery barn on the south side did a flourishing business among those who did not own a horse and buggy.

From a continuous active management, the publisher of The News is the third oldest business man in Canyon.

C. R. Burrow, lumberman, holds the longest record of more than 36 years of continuous service in one line.

T. C. Thompson, hardware man, with only a few months less service than Mr. Burrow, is second. However Mr. Thompson was in another line of business when Mr. Burrow reached Canyon.

Dr. S. L. Ingham and Dr. F. M. Wilson are the senior professional men with more than 25 years service.

Several other Canyon men were in business 25 years ago, whose business relations have been changed:

R. H. Wright, banker, was with the Canyon National Bank.

C. N. Harrison, contractor, was manager of the abstract company, and still is president of the company.

J. C. Pipkin and R. G. Oldham were president and vice president of the Canyon Mercantile Company.

J. D. Gamble was running the livery stable.

Oscar Hunt was postmaster.

T. C. Thompson and I rode bicycles until the automobile came into common use.

Everyone rode on the trains when they wished to go places. I gathered most of the news by meeting the trains daily to see who was coming and going.

Ofttimes standing room was at a premium on the four trains which daily passed through Canyon.

There were not more than half a dozen houses between the square and the college site. The population of Canyon was 1400, and the choice residential section was west of the square.

With the opening of the college many homes in the west end of town were moved to the east part of town.

There were practically no houses on Seventh and Eighth avenues.

There were no filling stations in Canyon 25 years ago. J. A. Guthrie started the first one in 1911.

Airplanes were exhibited at fairs.

County agents and county demonstrators had not come into existence.

The common drinking cup in the schools, and the common communion cup in the churches had not fallen before the germ theory.

The old telephones were cranked.

The electric lights started at dusk; went off at midnight, unless special arrangements were made for a longer run, and came on again in the morning only during the winter.

The radio was unknown.

The traveling man came by rail, stayed all day, did not complain of rotten business, had a fresh batch of jokes.

Talking machines and player pianos were found in most homes.

Sewing machine, piano, kitchen range and buggy peddlers drove over the country doing a good business.

Golf was believed to be a game for old men, the idle rich of the big cities.

Football was seldom played among the high schools. Every town had a baseball team.

Women could not vote.

There were 424 qualified voters in the county.

Bridge was unknown in Canyon.

"42" was the universally played game at entertainments.

Nearly every home had a windmill.

No one objected to walking a mile or two for a party.

Citizens were talking about a national park in the Palo Duro.

The present court house had been occupied for a year.

The Santa Fe south to Plainview was built in 1908, stopping a long line of wagon trains which made Canyon a great wholesale center. A few years previously, Canyon was for one year the largest cattle shipping point in the world.

The humble penny was seldom seen, as all goods were sold on even 5 cent terms. It was necessary for the bank to import a bunch of coppers for a special one cent sale held at one of the stores.

The opera house, now the Lisle Feed Store, had many plays during the course of the year, and occasionally a dance was staged there.

No one conceived of trucks and busses.

Revival meetings, conducted by professional evangelists under specially built arbors, were held from one to three times annually.

Only a small percent of the high school graduates went to college, since they could always secure jobs upon completion of their high school work.

Probably more houses lacked bath rooms and sewer connections than were so equipped.

Tractors had not been introduced, although big steam engines and plows were being used to break sod.

Silent pictures of two or three reels were shown.

Political events in 1910:

O. B. Colquit was elected governor.

W. A. Johnson of Memphis, state senator.

J. C. Hunt of Canyon, state representative.

J. N. Browning, district judge.

Henry S. Bishop, district attorney.

W. D. Scott, county judge.

M. P. Garner, clerk.

R. H. Sanford, sheriff.

Cyrus Eakman, assessor.

P. H. Young, treasurer.

W. J. Flesher, county attorney.

Commissioners: T. F. Reid, E. W. Neece, W. S. Cook, M. S. Park, W. R. Redfearn, justice of the peace.

It would be interesting to see the list of people now living in Randall county who were here 25 years ago. It would include many prominent citizens. If I attempt a special edition on my 30th or 50th anniversary in Randall county, we shall run the pictures of every one who has lived here an equal or longer period.

Readers of daily newspapers relied upon Fort Worth and Dallas newspapers, since there was no outstanding Amarillo daily. No daily was printed on the Plains, excepting in Amarillo, which was largely local in circulation.

There was a drouth on in 1910, which put a sudden end to the immigration business. Train loads of land buyers and immigrants had been run to the Plains up to the spring of 1910.

Most of the big ranches had been broken up into farms. A more severe drouth followed in 1914, the year that the first college building was burned.

During the 25 years there have been more good crop years than poor crop years.

Many outstanding events have changed things locally and generally during these 25 years. The World War 1914-1918 upset the peaceful frame of mind of all citizens. The speculative boom following the war lead to the crash of 1929. The period of depression, drouth and dust storms is vividly fresh in the minds of all the readers.

Most of the short items in this review suggests the hint of a fine story which I had hoped to develop in a real historical edition had it seemed justifiable to publish such an edition.

So far as I am concerned, these have been happy, busy years. The Fanhandle has taken it on the chin several times during this period, but always the people came up smiling, and with a renewed determination to win. Not one single reverse has taken the fight out of the people of the Panhandle, but has given each one a renewed determination to go forward.

Improvements have been made locally in all of the public facilities, yet the tax rate has been kept at a very low rate for the people. Public officials have seen to it that every dollar was judiciously spent. In not a single instance has a single public official been charged with maliciously misappropriating, or unwisely spending the public's money.

Business is at a low ebb in Canyon today, perhaps as low as at any period during the 25 years, considering the increased population and facilities. Yet that need not discourage any person in the county. The future has looked dull many times previously, but the Panhandle can come back more quickly than any section of the United States.

In conclusion, may I take this opportunity to personally thank each and every citizen of Randall county for the part they have played in the wonderful development that has taken place during the past 25 years. Many citizens have been on the firing line thruout all these years; others are here, attracted by the splendid work which had been done before they discovered the possibilities of Canyon.

There is work ahead for each and every one.

Conditions will improve one of these days before we start to realize it.

Improvements must be made in the community which will take the hearty co-operation of every citizen.

A community united in thought and in purpose goes forward; a divided community soon dissipates its resources, and destroys its facilities.

I take this opportunity of pledging to each and every citizen my full energy in making the next 25 years the brightest and most profitable period of history of this splendid country.

Let's go forward.

P. M. Wilson returned Sunday from Dallas and McKinney where he visited with his daughter, Mrs. Ollie Ford.

Courage

Advertising tests character, because to succeed in it a man must have faith, courage and trust in himself.

When James B. Duke, the tobacco king, died, he was rated as worth ninety million dollars.

His father, Washington Duke, founded the business of which James B. Duke was at the head at the time of his death. It is related that while father and son were both living and partners in the tobacco enterprise, the younger man pledged the firm's credit for $750,000 to be spent in advertising during a period of twelve months. When the old man was informed of this, he lay awake for three nights worrying over what he regarded as certain ruin, for the company's entire assets didn't equal the amount contracted for to be spent in publicity.

Finally, when the advertising began to pull, orders poured in so fast they could hardly take care of them. At the end of the twelve months every cent of the advertising was paid for and assets of the firm were several millions.

Olson of Chicago University Here To See Mateer

Dr. E. C. Olson, head of the paleontology department of the University of Chicago, called Saturday upon Warren D. Mateer, instructor of science in the Demonstration School, concerning the discovery of alleged cretaceous formations in the Palo Duro Canyon.

Harness Bay of Fundy's Mighty Tides to Provide Power for Northeast

FOR years monster machines, mighty, turbulent rivers and tremendous waterfalls have worked for man. Now, to his staff of servants, he intends to add the sea and the moon.

A mighty blast that might have been the combined echo of firecrackers the nation over rocked the countryside about Eastport, Me., on July 4. This signal heralded launching of a project that had been a dream for decades — harnessing the great tides of Fundy, and converting this tremendous water power into energy for the northeastern part of the United States.

As everyone knows, the moon's attraction creates tides. And when these tides are forced into narrow bays, such as abound on the scraggly Maine coast, the tides are apt to be enormous. Bay of Fundy waters which daily fill and empty Passamaquoddy and Bobscook bays, near the Canadian border, frequently rise as high as 27 feet. Seldom do they rise less than 16.

For years engineers have tried to interest the Canadian and U. S. governments in harnessing this vast potential hydraulic power. Canada has demurred because of possible damage to its fishing industry, but in President Roosevelt the engineers at last found a willing, even eager listener. Summering on Campobello Island in the Bay of Fundy these past 25 years, the chief executive himself had frequently visioned the same possibilities. And so Uncle Sam has begun to pour millions into the Quoddy project.

* * *

THE general principle is clear. Dams are to be constructed wherever ocean waters can rush into Bobscook Bay. Bobscook waters are to be kept at low-tide levels. The tide starts to rise in the sea and in the Bay of Fundy, but the dams will prevent its usual rush into Bobscook Bay. When the water is five feet higher outside than inside, the dams will be opened, and water will pour into Bobscook Bay, turning giant turbines.

Power continues to be generated until the tide recedes to the point where the outside water again is five feet higher than that inside. The dams are closed, until the level of both waters is even, then opened again to let both levels drop to their low-tide point.

Emptying gates will be provided for the outgoing water, and there will be a lock through which boats may enter Bobscook Bay.

Note that power may be generated only during two five-hour periods each day; while the tides are rising or falling. To provide a steady 24-hour supply of power, surplus energy developed by the tides will be used to pump water into a great reservoir, 130 feet high, situated 15 miles away near Haycock Harbor. Then, when the tides are not turning turbines, this reservoir will be tapped and its waters, running downward, will take up the power-creating work until the next tide swell.

* * *

ONE great objection to the Quoddy project has been that Maine would not be able to furnish sufficient buyers for this new power. It is believed, however, the new supply of cheap power will draw industry to the northeast. And, incidentally, the project includes building of an aluminum and stainless steel plant that will use up a great deal of the tidal energy.

Originally engineers contemplated a plan affecting both Passamaquoddy and Bobscook bays, in which high tides impounded in the former would empty through turbines into the latter, and from there into the Bay of Fundy, thus creating a constant supply of energy. But extension of the present program must await Canada's consent, since the border line splits Passamaquoddy Bay.

Million Dollar Hall Of State Is Feature Of Centennial Exposition

Central unit of the Texas Centennial Exposition, the Texas State Building, will cost $1,200,000. Designed by a committee of Texas architects, the building will be a massive structure of Texas limestone with a frontal width of 488 feet, a depth of 258 feet and 80 feet high at its center, where the Niche of Heroes will be located. The two front wings will be occupied by regional rooms, devoted to the four geographical divisions of the state—East, West, North, and South—while at the extreme ends will be the Halls of 1836 and 1936.

Forming a third wing, extending to the rear from the Niche of Heroes, will be the Great Hall of Texas. This hall will be a large room with six semi-circular bays in which will be displayed flags of the six governments that have ruled Texas. At one end, silhouetted against stained-glass windows, will be a heroic statue symbolic of Texas. On the floor will be outlined a map of Texas with bronze markers showing historic places and old pioneer trails. Murals will decorate the bays and walls of the regional rooms. Below the great hall will be an auditorium.

The walls of the Niche of Heroes, behind its columns, will bear in relief heroic figures of the major heroes of Texas, while under the windows in the side colonnades will be placed smaller figures of other historic Texas characters.

The interior of the Hall of 1836 will be a replica of a Texas mission, while that of the Hall of 1936 will be modern.

Will Stop Letting Stock Graze on the Highways of Texas

Divison Engineer W. J. Van London has issued the following warning against the practice of allowing stock to graze on the highways:

The Legislature of the State of Texas this year passed a law providing that any person owning or controlling any horse, mule, donkey, cow, bull, steer, hog, sheep, goat or any other livestock who permits the same to run at large unattended on that portion of any designated State highway in this State which is inclosed by fences on both sides shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Each day such livestock are allowed or permitted to run at large is a separate offense. The punishment for each offense shall be a fine of any sum not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00). The law further provides that State Highway Patrolmen as well as local Sheriffs and other local officers shall have the power to enforce said law.

This law will become effective on August 10, 1935, and thereafter will be strictly enforced upon the complaint of any citizen of Texas.

During the past few years livestock roaming at large on State highways have become a dangerous menace to the traveling public. Because of the carelessness and neglect of those who own or control such livestock, numerous accidents have resulted by reason of the collision with such livestock by automobiles lawfully operated upon the said highways, and a large number of people have been killed and others have been so seriously injured as to be maimed for life. In addition, untold property damage has resulted.

The State Highway Department asks every citizen in this locality to co-operate with this department, with the local peace officers and wth the State Highway Patrol in the enforcement of this law to the end that the State highways in this locality may be made more safe for the traveling public.

Dan W. Wallace, Pioneer, Recalls His Early Experiences

Reminiscent of early days in the Panhandle are the stories told by Dan W. Wallace, familiarly known as "Uncle Dan," who is this week visiting in the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. A. Stark of Swisher County.

Uncle Dan, now eighty-three years old, was employed just after the turn of the century on the JA ranch near Goodnight. He says that his official office on the ranch was that of "wolf catcher" and while there ridded the ranch of all but one of these cattle pests.

He is responsible for the capture of a large lobo wolf, now mounted and on exhibit in Pioneer Hall, the Panhandle Plains Historical Society Museum. The wolf was donated by the late Ed Harrell, and was captured in 1914 after it had been run down by a dog pack. While Mr. Wallace held the wolf by the hind legs, Mr. Harrell shot it with a 22 target.

Uncle Dan came to Texas in 1871, driving an ox team from Alabama, the trip taking him from Jan. 1 to March 21. He first settled with his family near Austin, a few years later coming to the JA ranch where he was employed until 1918. In that year he moved to Swisher County, and then to Slaton in 1933.

Mr. Wallace will go to Carlton, Hamilton County, Aug. 11 where a reunion of the Wallace family will be held. He has five living brothers who are over 75 years of age who have also been active in the pioneer life of the West. A special band from Dallas will furnish entertainment for this affair.

Uncle Dan was a personal friend of W. C. Campbell, T. C. Thompson, I. C. Jenkins, Fred Scott, G. G. Foster, J. C. Pipkin, and W. F. Heller.

Anniversary Week!

We congratulate The News upon its success and achievements, at this, its mature Anniversary. The enjoyment, improvement and uplift it has wrought, shared by the citizens, is worthy of praise and respect. But every day is not a sunny or enjoyable day, striving for the best results. Close scrutiny might reveal scars of error and mistakes.

But it is commendable to the courage and persistence of the management in its effort to overcome, conduct and sentiment that retards and obstructs progress and growth toward the IDEAL goal; render SERVICE that equity and justice may prevail. May coming years increase its usefulness and witness even greater accomplishments.

Two West Point and Two Annapolis Appointments by Jones

The 18th District of Texas will have for appointment to the Military Academy, for entrance in 1936, two cadets, and to the Naval Academy two midshipmen, states Congressman Marvin Jones.

In order to afford equal opportunity to all young men, appointments will be made on the basis of a prelminary competitive examination which will be held under the direction of the War and Navy Departments on October 26.

For each vacancy which exists at the military Academy there will be appointed one principal and two alternates; and at the Naval Academy one principal and three alterantes.

This preliminary examination is for the purpose of determining to whom the appointments will be given, and that nominees must then meet the entrance requirements of the Academies. This is done by taking the regular entrance examination for the Military Academy in March, 1936, or for the Naval Academy in February, 1936.

Candidates for the Military Academy must be between the ages of 17 and 22 at the time of entrance, which will be the first week day in July, 1936. Candidates for the Naval Academy must not be less than 16 nor more than 20 years of age on April 1, 1936.

The preliminary examination as well as the entrance examination is a difficult one and announcement of these vacancies is being made at this time in order that any prospective candidates may have an opportunity to prepare themselves for the preliminary examination during the coming months.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION FOR

25 Years of Loyalty

We deem it unworthy of the Public Schools of Canyon to let Mr .Clyde W. Warwick celebrate his 25th Anniversary in Canyon without a word of appreciation from an institution for which he has done so much.

The School system of Canyon has been served distinctively by Mr. Warwick during his residence in Canyon. In order to keep school affairs before the taxpayers, he encouragd students to write a column weekly for the News.

Nine years ago, he offered to devote a page of The News to school news, and The Eagle's Tale was started. It was the first school page in a weekly newspaper in Texas, and as a pioneer, has been the example for many other school pages. As a noteable culmination, The Eagle's Tale was awarded first place in two state-wide contests this year. The staff, as a climax for the year's work, printed a 12-page edition at commencement time—the first section of this size ever produced in a weekly paper in the Southwest.

As a friend of education, Mr. Warwick devoted eight years of service on the School Board of Trustees, six years as secretary and two years as president of the board.

For these and many other services, Mr. Warwick, please accept our thanks and our

25 YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

—Randall County has been very fortunate to have had during the past 25 years a man like Clyde W. Warwick as editor of its home newspaper. No one appreciates more the friendly co-operation and steadfast spirit of helpfulness that has been shown by The Canyon News and its editor than do the officials of Randall County.

—Few men have attained a place of such usefulness in a community as has been attained by our friend and neighbor, through his unselfish service to the county and city during the past 25 years. Clyde Warwick has been on the firing line for his people all through these years, just as he will so long as we are privileged to have him as the editor of the county newspaper.

—During these 25 years he has served in every capacity of the Chamber of Commerce, and directed its efforts as president recently when an unsuccessful effort was made to wreck the College. He served 8 years as a member of the school board when the splendid plant was built. He took one year during the World War to be of help to the men in the army in Y. M. C. A. service. For four years he was a member of the Legislature, and is largely responsible for the appropriation which made possible the Museum on the college campus. He has given his time to the Red Cross, the Relief work, to the County Library, and to every movement which would make Randall county a better place to live. He is serving as Chairman of the Democratic County Executive Committee, and as Chairman of the Advisory Committee of the State Parks Board.

—During all these years he has stood as a leader of the moral forces of the county. While an active member of the Methodist Church, he has an investment in every church building in Randall county, and donates liberally toward every church and educational activity.

—As representatives of the people of Randall County, your County officials wish to express sincere congratulations upon this 25th Anniversary of Clyde Warwick as Editor of The Canyon News.

Two Professors Write Workbook

Anderson, Moore Are Authors of Manual About Texas

Miss Hattie M. Anderson, associate professor of history in the College, and Miss Jean Moore, assistant professor of education in the Demonstration School, have planned and written a work book, "Directed Study Guide in Texas History for Grade Six," which will be off the press in August, and will be sold at a nominal price.

Miss Nell Galloway of the social science department of the Borger public schools and Miss Annie I. McDonald of the Amarillo school system read the manuscript and offered constructive criticism. Miss Galloway, who last attended W. T. in the spring of 1927, prepared the test for the work book. Miss McDonald, visiting teacher in history department this summer, received her bachelor of arts degree from W. T. in 1932.

The book was dedicated "To the Future Citizens of Texas who are now in the sixth grade."

In a word to the teachers the purpose of the book is explained: "The Directed Study Guide has been prepared with the belief that it would meet a long recognized need of the teacher who desires to make her teaching of Texas History more inspirational and valuable to sixth grade boys and girls."

After the introduction of the book to the teacher, "A few confidential remarks, mostly to the students who will be reading about Texans of the past, present, and future," were given.

A library of Texas history for the pupils with 100 references and a similar group of 62 books for the teacher is listed in the last part of the book.

The outline of the units of work are as follows: How Europe Discovered America; How the Spaniards Took Possession of Texas, How Americans Took Possession of Texas, How the Texans Met the Problems of Government during the Republic, How Texas Found Her place in the Union; How Texas Grew; Political and Economic Development since the Civil War; How Texas Grew: Intellectual and Social Development Since the Civil War, and Texas To-Day and To-Morrow.

Camel Skeleton Will Be Exhibited at Pioneer Hall

The complete skeleton of a camel is being secured from the paleontology department of the University of Oklahoma for exhibit at Pioneer Hall, announced Prof .C. Stuart Johnston, Monday.

The skeleton is being obtained through the assistance of Prof. J. Stovall, head of the vertebrate paleontology department at O. U., who visited in the homes of Prof. Johnston and W. S. Strain last week on a return trip from Nebraska where fossil skeletons of seven camels and two oreodon (hog-like animals) were unearthed. Alfred Loeblich and Bill Strain, a former student of W. BONE-FILLED ROCK IS PUT IN MUSEUM

Specimens Are Found In Hemphill County Quarry

IS PLIOCENE FOSSIL

Johnston Believes It One of Best in Country

A bone-filled block of rock weighing 3500 pounds was brought to Pioneer Hall last week after Prof. and Mrs. Stuart Johnston, Harry Hartzog, and George Counts had labored in the hot hills of Hemphill County all day Monday cutting out the formation and casting it in plaster in preparation for its overland trip to Canyon.

The block of semi-consolidated sandstone is filled with the bones of cats, dogs, camels, horses, tigers, mammals, and mastodons of the Lower Pliocene period of approximately five million years ago.

Left In Position

The exhibition will be prepared with the bones lying in their original positions, says Prof. Johnston.

Agate, Neb., and the surrounding countryside is noted for its rich bone beds which supply museums all over the United States with blocks such as the one brought to Canyon from Hemphill County.

Typical of Panhandle

"However, I should much rather have this block," said Prof. Johnston in speaking of last week's discovery, "as it is typical of the locality and really a product of the Panhandle. The fossilized bones are unusually white and unbroken. It will make one of the finest exhibits in the country."

As darkness fell Monday, after the party had worked unceasingly all day in the sweltering heat, one of the group noticed an especially fine rhinoceros jaw-bone in the bank in which they had been working. Rather than leave it to be destroyed or to be found by other paleontologists, they worked by lantern light far into the night removing the specimen. It has also been placed in the museum.

Rusk Quizzes

We received a good shower Wednesday. Much more rain is needed to help make the row crops.

Mrs. R. N. Henry spent last week visiting relatives at Shamrock.

Mildred Baber spent Saturday night in the C. G. Stalling home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Orva Henry and son visited at Shamrock Sunday and Monday.

Split Season Made in Softball League

Road Runners Still on Top In the Second Period

A split season for the Softball League was decided upon last week, awarding the championship for the first half to the Road Runners for maintaining a perfect record during the first half. Last week's games counted on the second period, after the four teams withdrew from the League.

The Road Runers continued the winning streak after dropping the first game of the second period to the Outlaws.

A most spirited game was played Thursday night when the Road Runners defeated Phillips 18-17, after Phillips had lead to the fifth inning 15-2. The last two inning rally of the League leaders added another win and kept this bunch on top for the second period.

The following games were played this week:

Thursday: Road Runners 18 vs. Phillips 17; Outlaws 4 vs. Business Men 2.

Monday: Road Runners 18 vs. Outlaws 3; Business Men 17 vs. Phillips 10.

Two games were played Friday and Monday nights between the All-Stars from the town and the College, the town team winning both. The score Friday night was 7-5, and Monday night 21-10.

The following is the schedule for the coming week:

Tonight: 1, Road Runners vs. Business Men; 2, Outlaws vs. Phillips.

Monday: 1, Outlaws vs. Business Men; 2, Phillips vs. Road Runners.

Thursday, August 8: 1, Outlaws vs. Road Runners; 2, Business Men vs. Phillips.

Young People of Amarillo District Hold Retreat

The young people of the Amarillo District of the Methodist church met at Ceta Canyon, July 27-28, for their annual Rerteat, under the direction of La Trice Quattlebaum, District Director. The hundred and twenty delegates agreed that it was the best district meeting they had ever attended.

The theme for the meeting was "Christian Youth Building a New World." The meeting opened Saturday night with the Vesper Service in charge of Bill Dickinson of S. M. U. The two discussion groups were in charge of Noel Bryant of McMurry, on the subject, "The Attitude Young People Should Take Toward the Church While Off at College," and Bill Dickinson on the subject, "New Ideas in Recreation." The Platform Hour was in charge of the Canyon Young People. A trumpet and piano recital by Charles Strain, Don Savage and Lilla Beth Burroughs was followed by a one-act play, "The Gift," by Mary Foley, directed by Thelma Calliham. The evening was closed with an impressive bonfire service under the direction of Mrs. I. W. Gilstrap of Amarillo.

Sunday morning was begun with the Morning Watch on Vesper Hill, directed by Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum on the subject "God's Plan for Us." Rev. J. O. Haymes, the Presiding Elder, directed a discussion group on the subject, "Keeping One's Faith in the Face of Modern Teachings." Another group was lead by Clarence Walton of Snyder, the conference treasurer, on "Stewardship." Rev. Martin Boyd, pastor of Vega, and the new conference dean, delivered the sermon of the morning. The new conference president, Doyle Morton, brought greetings and words of encouragement.

The reports given by all departments in the District show that the Amarillo group has started out to accomplish many things this year.

Dry Leader Says Repeal Has Failed

Bootlegging And Crime Show Steady Increase Rather Than Decrease

"If on August 24th Texas votes to legalize liquor, and on August 25th each citizen in Texas should begin to drink liquor and drink it daily for five years, Texas Democracy would degenerate into a drunken Mobocracy. Drunkenness and Democracy do not go hand in hand," according to Rev. E. A. Maness, Panhandle District Chairman of the Texas League against whiskey, who is leading in a vigorous campaign against repeal in Texas on August 24th.

Mr. Maness says: "The call of the hour is a call to vote against repeal because repeal has failed. Three years ago the wets said vote for national repeal, and that national repeal would decrease taxes. But Congress is now voting to raise taxes higher than at any time since the close of the World War.

"The wets said vote for the repeal of the 18th amendment in order to decrease our national indebtedness. But in three years after national repeal the national debt has been increased to the amount of $14,000,000,000.

"The wets said vote for repeal and bring about real temperance and decrease drunkenness. But drinking and drunkenness has doubled since we voted to repeal the 18th amendment.

"The wets said vote for repeal and decrease bootlegging. We voted for repeal all right but the treasury department of the U. S. says that bootlegging has increased. A statement was recently given to the press of the nation that more bootleg liquor is being sold in America at this time than legal liquor. More than half of the liquor being drunk in America today is being illegally sold, according to the report of the Federal Government. Just to the extent that a state licenses the sale of liquor it increases bootlegging, because where liquor is legally sold it is well nigh impossible to catch and convict a bootlegger for selling it.

"The wets said vote for repeal and save the boys and girls from drink. But in place of saving our boys and girls from drink, repeal has made bar tenders and bar maids out of them. Half of the wine, and beer and liquor that is being sold in America today, it is said, is being sold by boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 21. Under the regime of repeal, liquor taverns are becoming more damning in their environment than the old time saloon bar.

"Do not be mislead by the pleas of the wets, like that made by C. L. Wakefield, chairman of the Dallas county repeal forces, in the Dallas News of Sunday, July 21st. He says: 'Revenue to be gained from the millions of dollars worth of liquor now being sold in the state would enable us to have our tax burdens eased.' National repeal has not eased anybody's tax burden. Any man or woman who is bootlegging liquor in Texas today, will bootleg it after the election.

If Texas votes for repeal and raises $10,000,000 as a liquor tax, it will then take $20,000,000 in taxes to enforce the new liquor laws and pay for the added increase in the crime bill of the state, and for the accidental loss of life and property. Repeal means to increase taxes in place of decreasing them. An illustration of this is seen in the states of New York and Kansas. New York collects more liquor tax than any state in the nation and yet it has at this time a $90,000,000 deficit. Kansas, a dry state, the dryest in the union, has balanced its state budget and lowered its taxes.

"Vote against repeal, for repeal has failed to decrease automobile accidents. 5,000 more people are now killed annually in automobile accidents than when we had the 18th amendment," said Maness.
